

In other words, as long as baclofen pump does not look like a “hockey puck” on abdominal radiograph, patient can have MRI

Figure 1. Pump positions in relation to z-axis MRI orientations